ESTABLISHED JUNE 1907 — AN INDEPENDENT COUNTY NEWSPAPER

Vol. 40 No. 26

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1946

Every Friday at $2.50 Per Year

"Buy In Friendly Jeffersontown," Slogan

ADOPTED BY BUSINESS GROUP HERE

Having worked for several weeks on a common public trading policy Jeffersontown merchants and business men, in their regular meeting held at the Murphy Restaurant Monday night, finally developed something concrete to which all present could subscribe.

Meeting was presided over by Dean Delaney, Delaney Furniture Co., who was chairman for the evening. Trade slogans were submitted by a number of the business houses represented and their names discussed by the group in session. It was finally unanimously concluded by those present that the town would express most fully and appropriately the policy agreed upon was, "Buy in Friendly Jeffersontown." Adopting as their cooperative slogan, all those present pledged their full cooperation in making that principle ring true in their dealings with the buying public.

It was the group's expressed purpose to have the slogan made the adopted slogan a household word within the shopping area. Based on the theme, the merchants decided to insert an opposite trade slogan in The Jeffersonian, starting with this present issue. In leading the discussion, Delaney emphasized the importance of our services on the part of all local business firms.

Through the plan of selecting chairman of the group of eight Dierut Hounds, to preside over it, it falls to W. C. Dierut, the next session of the Club, which is to be held November 25.

Pamphlets Explain New Safety Law

Commissioner O. M. Howard of the Department of Revenue wishes to stress the importance of the Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act... and to inform the public that he has deposited in the post offices distributing pamphlets explaining the features and the application of the new law... when it becomes effective November 1946.

These pamphlets may now be found throughout the state... at service stations, courthouses, and traffic police stations. This same information, or more detailed information, may be obtained by writing the Department of Revenue, Frankfort. The law's requirements, and the penalties in case of non-compliance are not met, are illustrated throughout the folder by means of cartoons.

These cartoons depict the plight of two motorists who have been involved in an accident. They have not bothered to become familiar with the provisions of the new law and consequently know nothing as to the extent of their liability. They learn too late that they are financially irresponsible drivers... since they carry no liability insurance can not afford the liability to pay damages by means of a surety bond; nor can they deposit $1,000 in cash with the state to protect their financial responsibility.

Other features explained in the folder are: owner's responsibility in case of an accident involving motor vehicle damages, necessity of reporting all accidents immediately, exactly when and where the law applies, and its application to out of state motorists.

County 4-H Achievement Meeting Set For Nov. 23

The annual Jefferson County 4-H Club Achievement Day meeting is to be held at Greathouse School, in St. Matthews, on November 23, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The day will set aside to honor 4-H Club leaders and members completing projects of the year, said Vernon C. Agent H. C. Brumley, in announcing the meeting. Trophies are to be awarded to county champions and to three high-scoring clubs, with recognition given to those who took part in special activities both in and out of the county.

GREENWOOD SCHOOL HAS 4-H CANNING CHAMPION

Mary Ann Huffage has been a very cooperative 4-H Club member, and she was the first to have the County 4-H canning champion in our school. The educational Psalm 100, and the commandment rest for Mrs. Morgan at the coming year.

Mrs. Morgan was present and talked with us about our project for the coming year.

JWTN F.F.A. SPONSORS CHRISTMAS SHOW

Friday night, November 15, the Jeffersontown Chapter of Future Farmers is sponsoring Asher Sizemore and his Kentucky Barn Gang at the Jeffersontown High School Auditorium.

They recently gave performances at Eastwood and Fern Creek which drew big crowds. Watch for posters and announcements later.

Watch That Gun Hunter! Safety First

Frankfort, Ky. — It has been conservatively estimated that more than 50 million sportsmen will hunt this fall and winter. Almost all of them will return home to dine on their kill of game. But, indeed, many hunters, who have marched out to their death through their own carelessness or that of others in handling guns.

Kentucky hunters have not really opened yet, but already accidents and fatalities have cropped out during squirrel and dove hunting, preliminary to the opening of the main season on rabbits, quail, ducks and other game birds.

Director Earl Wallace of the Kentucky Game and Fish pointed out today that due to the cold weather hunting pressure this fall, every hunter, expert or novice, should practice gun safety rules in the field and in the gun room.

HENRY NUFER PUBLIC SPIRITED CITIZEN

In the death of Henry Nufer, November 5, Jefferson County lost a leading public spirited citizen. A resident of Blevins Gap Rock Valley Station, Mr. Nufer was well known throughout the county.

An active churchman and interested in the political life of his county and state, Mr. Nufer was always to be found in the forefront of matters pertaining to the public welfare. He was a past president of the St. Helen's Commercial Club, being a former resident of Rockford Lane in that community. At the time of his death he was a member of the Jefferson County Good Government Committee.

A man said the other day that he had been accosted the evening before by a young man who wanted to borrow enough money to take him to the pictures. Although he turned him down, he did encourage him to buy a young fellow as much to blame. He decided that the chap was simply a part of the product of recent years. His generation has grown up under a philosophy that belittles thrift and encourages the practice of spending as one goes, leaving to the government and the patient taxpayer the task of providing for the nonearning years.

A man told us the other day that he had just sat across the table from a fellow who put four heaping teaspoonsful of sugar in one cup of coffee. Said our informer, "I fully expected him to pour it out in his saucer and, when it cooled, pull it for 'taste.' What do you suppose other members of that fellow's family do for sugar?"

One of the chief obstacles against balancing the national budget is that, while there are a few who speak easily that national expenses be reduced, there are groups that shout and clamor that this and that appropriation be granted or increased with no new source of revenue suggested.

Scarcity of merchandise appears to be the best incentive for doing early Christmas shopping. When people have money to spend and find that they might be "left holding the coin" they really hump themselves, and go out "after the bacon."

Two states, Arizona and Nebraska, will vote on a "Right to Work" amendment. If adopted it will outlaw the closed shop. In other words, a workman will not be required to join a labor organization, in either of these states, to get a job.

Most people can't stand prosperity. But, come to think of it, most people don't have to.

Pay as you go—and don't go too much!

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pleasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you more than you like; if you're simple, honest, life-participation and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Valley Station
News By Mrs. F. B. Smith

Sunday School attendance at Beechland was 235. We are glad to report Mrs. S. S. Foss able to attend services. Stern daughter of the 15th anniversary of her birth in the Master's work, teaching her class, the "Helping Hand." She says she can't do much now, but she is still here. Rev. Della, pastor of Beechland, was sent to attend the state convention held this week at Polar Baptist Church at Asbury & 8th Street. In his first address at this church, so had an extra pleasure in being sent. A party of five ministers drove there Monday. Brother Rev. Fred Doll, their Rev. F. F. Carter, pastor and president of City Missions, Rev. E. Rowlett of 23rd and Broadway, and Rev. A. W. Walker of 19th and Ave. all of Louisville; also Rev. Mr. Mitchel of Shively.

Mr. Arthur Dippel went to St. Joseph's Hospital Monday evening for an operation which was performed yesterday morning and proved successful. He was doing well Tuesday.

Rev. A. W. Hill of Missouri, came to Lexington, where he was a former pastor at the Baptist Church, to share in the birthday of a member there, who recently reached his 90th year. He then came on to Valley Station where he was also fondly remembered at Beechland many years ago and visited some of the old members. He was an overnight guest in the Foss home and evening visitor to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ottman and Mrs. J. Chamberlain, formerly Gertrude Camp of Louisville, brought him coffee to her. Mrs. Panetie Foss Ryan was also there.

Mr. W. E. Cowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cowley, Greenwood Road at Pleasant Ridge and wife, Mrs. Mary, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mays and their son, Robert, who resided at the Simon Place on Deering Road. They were recently married and have a home in West Moreland.

Tenn. Mrs. May is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dippel of Valley Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Reed, of Pleasant Ridge, were recently and son entertained Mrs. S. S. Foss at dinner after church services Sunday.

We are glad Mrs. Ross Ward, widow of F. A. Ward, died.

Ward, who improved after an extended illness of heart trouble.

She is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Pierson, Fair-

Little Donald Ray Beahl, who is nearly twelve and a half months old, suffered a very bad accident last Saturday when he fell out of his high chair. The chair opened as his mother was turning around on Valley Station Road. She had visited her aunt, Mrs. G. L. Johnson, on her return home, accompanied by her and had gone back in the house for something she wanted to take with her. The little child was unconscious and was immediately taken to the hospital. He was taken to General Hospital but no room available, was sent to Children's Hospital, where he is to be seen well.

There were five broken ribs and x-ray show all else to be favorable. We hope for his speedy recovery.

LITTLE DONALD RAY BEAHL

VALLEY HIGH P.T.A.

The Valley High P.T.A. meeting of Valley High School will be held in the school on November 21 at 7:30 p.m. A very interesting program is being planned with refreshments and a friendly get-together at the close of the meeting. All parents and interested persons are most cordially invited.—Louise Jesse, Publicity Chairman.

YES, the cost of living has gone up substantially in the last 20 years because all the costs of manufacturing and distributing most of the things we need want have greatly increased.

The outstanding exception is your electric rates, if you were the average householder in Louisville in 1926 you used 30 kilowatt-hours of electricity a month. The price you paid for that amount was $2.28—or $2.57 outside of the city limits.

But today you average householders use 100 kilowatt-hours a month—about three times as much as 20 years ago. And the price for that amount is only $2.75 in city and county. That is, for 20 percent more money you get 200 percent more electricity than you got 20 years ago.

Louisville's electric rates are among the country's lowest. The city's industrial growth has been outstanding—meaning more jobs and opportunities for local people. No industry has ever shunned Louisville because electric rates were too high here.

Recreational Groups May Buy Surplus Property

Children's day nurseries, parks, playgrounds, and organizations will be eligible to buy surplus property at the same discount and the same priority level as other individuals or organizations primarily for carrying on health activities. War Assets Administration announced today.

The determination clears up the question of what groups, and is based on the definition of "Public Health Activities" approved by the Surgeon General. This definition includes in its measurement all activities involving or preserving the physical and mental well-being of individuals, infant and child care.

Public Health discount-schedule applies to all groups provided they are exempt from taxation under Section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code, or are operated by states or local governments.

Certificates may be obtained by writing to the Special Services Section, Public Interest Division, War Assets Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Junior Basketball Clinics Start Nov. 23

Announcement from the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board has it that recreational basketball clinics for boys 14 years of age and under, along with tennis club basketball instruction, will begin at gymnasiums in Anchorage, Fern Creek, Jeffersonson Fairdale, Valley, Olmos and St. Matthews on Saturday morning, November 23, at 9:30 a. m.

The basketball clinics are to replace the football clinics which are being held with the football contests Saturday morning.

Qualified basketball coaches will serve as clinic supervisors for the County Recreation Board, organizing lessons in basketball to players on Saturday mornings after the clinic training period has been completed. League play is scheduled for opening on January 4, continuing for three rounds.

The ten-area clubs of the county are also dependent by basketball teams who will have their meeting on Saturday afternoons at the seven centers. By this setup, the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is providing basketball clinics for every boy or man in Jefferson County who wants to play.

Prior to league play, the boys will be taught the fundamentals of basketball, passing, team play and sportsmanlike conduct which the Recreation Board insists must prevail at all contests.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW P.T.A.
The regular monthly meeting of the St. Bartholomew P.T.A. will be held Wednesday, November 20 at 2 p. m.

V. Grove, Russellville Ask About Program

Charles Vettiner, county recreation chief, has outlined a state asking for advice in setting up recreation programs similar to those enjoyed by Jefferson County.

The man came to Bell, E. Hunter of Russellville who wanted to know about a program setup, the cost of initiating a recreation program, how to get equipment used on such playgrounds and how to finance the program.

The second was from Bill Darrough, an energetic leader of the Little Rock, Ark., Boy Scouts who wanted information on the promotion of recreational boxing and wrestling.

The Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is always glad to make the benefit of its recreational experience available to other counties who want to share its methods of promotion of recreational boxing and wrestling.

The Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, is always glad to make the benefit of its recreational experience available to other counties who want to share its methods of promotion of recreational boxing and wrestling.

Scores of telephone calls and letters, coming into the offices of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, are enthusiastic in their praises of the fall program.

With the opening of the winter recreation program in December, it is noteworthy that basketball replaces football on the active side of the boys' calendar while hockey, the active sport of girls, gives way to volley ball and folk dancing.

So attractive has the county program been that S.C.P. calls have come from down in the mountains from the town of Hazard to Western Kentucky, as deep in the section as Louisville, asking for more information.

Besides the state calls for advice and information, three national requests have been received in as many weeks and these do not include others received at various times.

RECREATION GUIDE BOOK IN DEMAND

"A Guide to County Recreation," the book which is designed to give an overall picture of Jefferson County recreation, is in great demand. Numerous requests have come in to the office of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board for copies.

Charles Vettiner, who is preparing the "Guide," said that 100 copies would serve the needs of the county workers and organizations, but he did not anticipate the large demand that has come in. When other counties are watching the progress here in Jefferson.

NEW WINTER PROGRAM TO GET UNDER WAY DEC. 1

The fall program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board has come to a close with the end of this month and a new and entirely different recreational program takes up for the winter months of December, January and February.

The fall program, which included 21 centers, was one of much variety. Each program was flexible and planned to suit the needs of individual communities.

Its success was evident from the very start as communities, who had not experienced recreation before, responded to the county-wide tournament series.

Family Night programs begin emphasizing dramatics and preparing minstrels and comedy plays for the winter. The first show will be held on December 13 and the rook fans start training for the county-wide tournament series.

Small world the program of Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board's Saturday morning football clinic.

You may not be there but Smoke Ringer will tell you right now, "I'm a good boy, I'm a good brother, I can Run's Charlie Carpenter, Lyndon's Charlie Wiley and Jeffersonson's Mrs. Jimmie McCracken try better."

Following the program we will have dancing, ping-pong, and cards, story hour, drama, folk dancing and of course, we have ping-pong, table games, badminton, checkers, and girls there is hoopshoer and rope jumping.

Mr. Robert Rhea and Mr. Joseph Cassin meet with the boys Saturday night to organize a basketball team. There was quite an enthusiastic bunch.

Of course all Finestales know of the process Mr. Art Gerington, county supervisor, has put into effect to make the first football clinic a success.

Under the direction of Oakley Brown, assistant supervisor of county recreation, the kids are given a good time in the gymnasiums and dance football clinics going to the winners of first, second and third places, respectively, in each event.

The recreation center, seating the greatest number of points, will be declared the county champion.

This is the first county-wide recreation event to be held in Jeffersonson and the Jeffersonson Recreation Committee, headed by hard-working Milton Frentz, will host the youngsters.

There will be three full rounds of play after which a tournament between the winners will be held to determine the county champion.

Each league is planned as a four-team affair with churches, business houses, lodges or other community organizations fielding teams.

Teams in the Anchorage area will be Clark, Anchorage, Fern Creek, Richard, Olmos, Valley, and Oakley Brown, assistant supervisor of county recreation is calling a meeting of all interested groups at the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board's office in the Armory on Monday, December 2.

Rules and regulations will be agreed upon at this time. Supervisors to organize and operate the county recreation leagues will be appointed by the county recreation board.

Hockey Tournament
November 22, 23

One of the beautiful features of the recreation program of the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board is that the girls of the county are well taken care of.

The ladies are invited to their annual county-wide picnic at the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board's office in the Armory on Monday, December 2.

Charles Vettiner, county recreation supervisor, has announced that the new year's programs emphasize leading all age groups in active and quiet games got underway at Fairdale High School.

Asst. Supervisor of Recreation, Strull, who is an artist in this phase of recreation, is working with Mrs. Lillian Gray, Virginia Shrewsbury, and Hallie Williams, who are the Family Night program at Fairdale on Wednesday nights.

Senior girls and community recreation enthusiasts also form the chess club.

Here's how it works. Strull separates the crowd of more than 100, who attend each session, into two age groups. He then lets the younger group in games while the supervisors observe.

Then each supervisor takes over and follows the game of the two age groups and the older group get their share of attention next week with the county recreation supervisors watching. They, in turn, lead each group as the Trainer leads helpful suggestions. This program runs for four weeks after which the program is placed entirely in the hands of the leaders themselves.

After the game training program is completed at Fairdale it moves on to Anchorage, Fern Creek, Jeffersonson, Okolona, and Valley. After the first week of training is completed the next phase of the "In Service Training Program," which is a folk-dancing class, is scheduled. Other phases included Arts and Crafts, Athletics and Music.

Smoky Ringer's gonna let you in on something. Chap Ray Herring, Ed Dill's son, has a lot of stuff on the ball.

Back when Ray used to edit the College Heights Herald in 1936 the boys wearing the bell-bottomed trousers on the campus would tell you, "There's a guy who has it."

Hunting Season Starts
In State Nov. 20

Frankfort—Messrs. Rabbit and Quail may expect a hot reception when the hunting formal on November 20, opening day of Kentucky's hunting season, record army of hunters is expected to take to the woods on the day in which the first record hare and the plump-breasted Bob White.

While reviewing the number of hunters last season, Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, forecast an even greater number of self-sufficient sportsmen this year. "We sold 105,910 hunting licenses last year, and, with the boys back from the Service, I would not be surprised to see the number reach 150,000—possibly more—this season," Wallace was conducted last winter.

PINCESS MOVEMENT

Their skillfully designed and administered program, organized, Mr. Hoover stated, has been brought into every phase of national life. "They have maneuvered themselves into position where they are the leaders of the desults of hundreds who are willing to be led or have been duped," he continued. "The average American working man is not so easily swayed in his desire for security for himself and family he finds himself in a Communists' pincer movement manipulated by a shrewd master."

Their false preachments on civil liberty mean that Communists want the right to do whatever they please. Those who seek to prevent Communists from bringing up the public mind to angry resentment against our form of government, are a menace to the very powers of law and order which are the cornerstone of our beloved popular rights. Said Mr. Hoover: "Communism has spread Fascism and Communism spawns Communism. Both are the antithesis of America and stand for the same freedom. If people of other countries want Communism, let them have it, but it has no place in America." It is time to stand up and be counted, indeed.

GOOD GAINS MADE BY

ADAIR COUNTY LITTER
A litter of 10 pigs raised by Richard Shirey, 18 years old, when 17½ days old, a Duroc-Spotted Poland-China, cost the pigs weighed from 176 lbs. to 200 lbs. each. County Agent R. B. Rankin says they were economically produced on 15 bushels of corn and 1,500 pounds of commercial feeds. Mr. Shirey makes good use of pasture land for his hogs. He has shown his agent has been allowed Mr. Rankin excellent care to select one person to attend one of the schools which will be held at Lexington and Princeton in February.

PLAN TRACTOR SCHOOLS

To help farmers interested in the use of more machinery, the Agricultural Extension Service, Economics announces it will hold two schools to train 4-H club leaders in farm tractor maintenance.

PORK CHOPS ALWAYS SATISFY

Lusciously browned pork chops atop a cascade of creamy egg noodles — what could be more tempting or more satisfying on a cool fall day? These delicious, nutritious, low-calorie delicacies are now available in every grocery store in the country. They're served with a garnish of fresh vegetables and a choice of gravy or gravy sauce. The oven does the rest!

College Announces
13 State Champion
4-H Club Members

The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics has announced the election of 13 state champion 4-H club members — boys and girls who excelled in farm and home work this year. They are:

Cecil Calvert, Fulton County, dairying.

Jesse Mae Chapman, Anderson County, canning foods.

James Earl Dalton, Breathitt County, poultry-raising.

Jean Evangeline Gallatin, County, sheep-shearing.

Evelyn Hammonds, Oldham County, room improvement.

Elva Jones, Jackson County, swine-raising.

E. Ward Jean, Jefferson County, corn growing and project achievement.

Doris Elaine King, Garrard County, homekeeping.

Walter C. Lovell, Green County, home gardening.

Violet Lureen Shields, Ohio County, commercial gardening.

Wendell Straughn, Oldham County, sheep-shearing.

Dan E. Turner, Garrard County, beef calves.

Rosalene Watts, Mercer County, clothing.

into smaller, more quickly salted pieces.

"All these methods help and many save the meat, but none are so satisfactory as curing at the proper temperature — 36 to 40 degrees."

If curing temperatures drop below freezing for several days, add same number of days to curing time. Temperatures below 36 degrees slow up salt penetration.

Frozen meat is difficult to handle. If fresh meat freezes, thaw it in chill room or in cold brine before cutting.

Copies of this leaflet, filled with practical suggestions on curing meat, may be had at offices of county agents or home demonstration agents, or from the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Lexington.

Burley Sales Committee Sets Sales Regulations

Burley auction warehouses shall open their 1946-47 sales on December 2, 1946.

According to a resolution passed by the Burley Sales Committee, sales for the 1946-47 sales season will commence on a plan of selling tobacco for five days a week, three to one-half hours per day, 30 baskets a day, but not to exceed 1,260 baskets a day per set of buyers. Each market, however, shall have the right to hold 4-H Club sales in addition to the regular sales under this regulation.

Selling days and selling hours shall be subject to change by the sales committee as conditions may require.

The sales committee requests the Inspection Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to assist in the enforcement of this regulation by grading no more than 200 baskets a day per set of buyers.

Q. Do laying hens need more feed than their first production?

A. During the first year, especially when eggs are first laid, a hen needs more feed to keep up their body weight. If feed ration is not sufficient, body weight will go down rapidly.

The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company recommends the following table:

When Egg Production Total Feed
40% 20 to 22 lbs. per 100 birds
50% 23 to 25 lbs. per 100 birds
60% 26 to 28 lbs. per 100 birds
70% 29 to 31 lbs. per 100 birds

Q. Do laying hens require extra use of pasture?

A. During the past two years, several dairy producers in Michigan have made considerable use of high, hard meadow feed to keep up their body weight. If feed ration is not sufficient, body weight will go down rapidly.

The Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company recommends the following table:

When Egg Production Total Feed
40% 20 to 22 lbs. per 100 birds
50% 23 to 25 lbs. per 100 birds
60% 26 to 28 lbs. per 100 birds
70% 29 to 31 lbs. per 100 birds

Q. How much coal is required for brooding broiler chicks?

A. About four to seven pounds of coal per chick is required, depending upon the size of the year of the year.

NELSON WOMEN SAVE BY SELLING SEWING

During this year of high prices and clothing shortages, homemakers in Nelson County have saved about $2,600 by making use of the information they learned in the "How to Save" course held by Mrs. Doris Foster, home demonstration agent. They made more than $65 garments for themselves and members of their families. They put up 160 lbs. of缝纫线 (sewing thread) and the sewing machines owned by women in good running order by cleaning, oiling and adjusting.

Forty-one neighbors and friends were helped to save money by learning how to make a new and popular type of shoulder pad, and 18 women to care for their sewing machines.
